THE VALUE OF CHARGOAL

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few Pacople Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.
Nearly everybody knows that charceal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, outfew realize its yalle when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of if the better; it is not a drug at all; but simply absorbs the gares and impurities always prosent in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eatling onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further nets as a natural and emisently safe enthartle.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and threat from the poison of catarth.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form canother, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges! they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antisepties in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant insting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will seen tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harmon real result from their continued use, but of the contrary, great benefit,

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greative benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe It get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

LAND TRANSFER FOR A COW

Member of the Constitutional Convention From Pittsylvania III-Fine Price for Tobacco.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHATHAM, VA., March 26.—The stables of Congressman Swanson, W. E. White and Lee Jones, near this place, were entered by thieves and a splendid work horse stolen from each stable. After a few hours Mr. Jones's horse returned muddy, and he believed the animal was ridden some distance and turned loose. At Swanson's a saddle blanket and other things were taken. Parties started in search of the horses Friday, but returned after a few hours without a clue, Captain Day Rancorous in His Remarks About Governor and Is Called to Order by Court.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALFIGH, N. C., March 26.-The bind ing over to Wake Superior Court of K ing over to Wake Superior Court of K. S. Finch to answer the charge of conspiracy with Captain V. E. McBee in the Federal Court receivership proceedings against the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroud was comparatively an insignificant development in the heating in progress the past two days before Chief Justice Clark on the bench warrant issued Itee Clark on the bench warrant issued March 15th.

Cuptain W. H. Day, first wliness to-day for the State, after answering questions as to the institution of the receivership suit in which he was counsel for Finch and McBee, and as to the source of the money paid to Ed. Chambers Smith on the notes for the Atlantic and North Carolina stock, proceeded to make a personal statement that precipitated a sensation.

ALLEGED AGREEMENT.

ALLEGED AGREEMENT.

It was as to the existence of an agree-ment between counsel for McBee and Finch and the Governor that in consider-ation of the withdrawul of the complaint and petition to the Federal Court for the ecciver the prosecution against McBec and Finch for conspiracy would be abandoned.

Governor Aycock was sent for and appeared in court before Captain Day was allowed to proceed with his statement. He then proceeded to tell of Governor Aycock's sending for Judge Roberson, of Captain Course, for McBee and Finch immediates. Aycock's sending for Judge Roberson, of counsel for McBee and Finch, immediately after the McBee hearing, and asking if something could not be done to stop the whole thing, and of an agreement reached during the night and next morning by which counsel for McBee and Finch abandoned their receivership case, having assurance that the solicitor would not push the cases for conspiracy against McBee or Finch when they came up in the Superior Court.

GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT.

GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT.

Governor Aycock asked to be permitted to make a statement and reviewed his conferences with Judge Roberson, which he said was in confidence, Roberson hav-ing the privilege of informing his asso-ciate counsel. That Roberson ha dkept confidence, but he was not surprised that confidence, but he was not surprised that one of associate counsel (meaning Captain Day), had now divulged it. He explained that there was really no agreement, but rather a sort of tacit understanding, through the solicitude of Roberson as counsel for Finch and McHee, that this course could be taken. e taken be taken.

After the Governor left the stand Captain Day was allowed another statement, He pronounced the Governor's reflections on him for stating the agreement gratuitous. Judge Clark told him he could not allow a statement reflecting on the Governor further, Day and the Governor being now even in that respect. Captain Day persisted enough to say before he was cut off that the Governor would not dare make such reflection on him on the street, where he (Day) could resent it, as he had made in the court, it as he had made in the court. JUDGE ON THE STAND.

Judge Roberson went on the stand and reviewed the negotiations between him self and the Governor, corroborating in many manners the statement by the Go ernor. manners the statement by the Go ernor. He insisted, though, that it was an agreement in all but name for the ab undonment of preceedings by both sides; that as a result of it he and associate counsel abandoned their amendment to the complaint in, the receipership preceding. This was for the making of C. B. Cuyler, of New York, a co-complaniant with Finch in asking for the receiver and summoning new witnesses from Newbern, their case being withdrawn.

The whole hearing was intensely interesting, and held up through the argument by counsel. W. B. Maxwell and Judge Roberson argued for the defendant, Finch, and the Attorney-General for the prosecution. At the close of the argument the Chief Justice said he could not allow to go unnoticed the statements that an agreement had been entered into for above doing prosecution; that he had no knowledge of such agreement, and could not believe the solfeitor would do other than his duty and prosecution when the cases came in his jurisdiction. The bond for Finch was given in the sum of $2,000, with Wr F. Mody, chief clerk in the State Treasury, as surety. REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING
